

Hey, quick favor before we dive into learning the first vibe coding tool.

We've put a lot into making this course genuinely useful. As you go through it, if it's helping you build real things with vibe coding, an honest rating or review would mean a lot - it only takes a few seconds, and it really does make a difference.

Reviews help other people decide if this course is right for them, and they show us what's working and what we can improve. Honest feedback is exactly what we want - the good and the not-so-good.

So if the course delivers for you, please take a moment to leave an honest review. And if anything isn't clicking or you get stuck along the way, reach out to us first - we'd love the chance to help.

That's it - now let's get into the good stuff!
